The Fund is actively managed and does not intend to track, replicate or invest in The MSCI Emerging Markets Index.

The Fund may invest in companies not included in the Index and reference to the Index in this document is included for illustrative or comparative purposes only.

The Fund seeks to maximise total return, which consists of capital appreciation on its investments. Income arising from the Fund will be reinvested. The Fund invests primarily in shares of listed securities on recognized stock exchanges in emerging markets and frontier markets.

The Fund will not borrow money or otherwise use leverage to enhance its returns for investors. The Fund will not use financial derivatives to enhance its returns for investors. The Fund may use foreign exchange contracts to mitigate foreign exchange risks although it is not required to do so.

Base currency: USD.

Share class reference currency: EUR.

Shares in the Fund can generally be bought and sold on a daily basis. If you wish to buy Shares in the Fund, you must submit your application to the Administrator by 12.00 pm on the relevant dealing day.

The Shares that you will hold in the Fund are accumulating Shares. This means that income from the Fund's investments will be included in the value of your shares rather than being paid to you as a dividend.

For further information please refer to the Prospectus and Supplement relating to the Fund.

Risk and Reward Profile

The following risks applicable to the Fund are not encapsulated within the calculation of the risk and reward indicator.

- Liquidity risk is the risk that some of the securities which are held by the Fund cannot be sold quickly enough to prevent a loss or make a profit.
- Credit and Counterparty risk is the risk that an institution with which the Fund transacts fails to carry out its obligations which could cause losses to the Fund.
- Concentration risk is the risk that the Fund holds a limited number of investments. If one of the investments falls in value, it can have a greater impact on the Fund's value than if the fund held a larger number of investments.
- Operational risk is the risk that management, business or administration processes, including those to do with the safekeeping of assets, may fail, leading to losses being suffered by the Fund.
- Currency risk is the risk that investing in assets in a currency other than your own exposes the value of your investment to exchange rate fluctuations.
- Emerging Market and Frontier Market risk is the risk that investing in emerging and frontier markets may be considered speculative. Legal and accounting procedures can differ and may offer less protection than in developed markets.

We graded the Fund a 6 based on the risk-reward indicator above by calculating the volatility of the Fund's return based on an appropriate benchmark to form a 5 year composite of returns. The risk-reward indicator is based on historical information and so its guide to future performance is limited. The Fund is not guaranteed to always stay in the same category.

What do these numbers mean?

The risk category above is not a measure of capital loss or gains, rather, it measures the significance of the rises and falls in the Fund's simulated returns based on historical data.

For example, a fund whose return has experienced significant rises and falls will be in a higher risk category (ie: 6 or 7), whereas a fund whose return has experienced less significant rises and falls will be in a lower risk category (ie: 1 or 2). The lowest category (i.e., category 1) does not mean that a fund is a risk free investment.

As the Fund's risk category has been calculated using simulated returns based on historical data, it may not be a reliable indication of the Fund's future risk profile.

The Fund's risk category shown is not guaranteed and may change in the future.
